Shadehouse PANELplus Shed Product Range

Ideal growing conditions & protection from harsh environmental elements.

Shadehouses offer an ideal environment for the cultivation of plants and seedlings. Designed to protect plants from harsh summer heat and cold winter winds and frosts, they accommodate the diverse Australian conditions and a variety of plant species.

The knitted shadecloth repels hail, will not rot or mildew and is unaffected by horticultural chemicals, sprays and fertilisers.

It features a 70% sun block factor which provides a cool micro-environment while still maintaining vital moisture and promoting fewer weeds and insects. It is fade resistant and UV stabilised with the edges reinforced to resist tearing and fraying.

Suits home gardeners and commercial horticultural activities for the cultivation of cut flowers, ferns, orchids, vegetables and the propagation of seedlings. Shadehouses are also ideal for hydroponics.
